Cradle of Aviation Museum

Located at One Davis Avenue, Garden City, NY 11530

The history of aviation, the history of Long Island and the history of the United States became intimately entwined with the dawn of flight. For the early days of kites and ballooning to the race to the moon, Long Island has played a very important role in the development and growth of aviation and aerospace. The Cradle of Aviation Museum celebrates aviation and the vital role it has played on Long Island.
